

Work Health and Safety Policy

VERSION 1.0	EFFECTIVE [] [] [] [] [] []	NEXT REVIEW [] [] [] [] [] []	OWNER Principal / Key Management Personnel	APPROVED BY Governing body
-----------------------	--------------------------------------	--	--	--------------------------------------

PURPOSE AT A GLANCE

This policy sets out [] [] commitment to the physical and psychological health and safety of workers, participants and others — how work health and safety risks are identified, reported, assessed, managed and reduced in every workplace, including participants' homes, and how unacceptable conduct, discrimination and harassment are prevented.

1. Purpose and scope

This policy supports [] [] the Risk Management and Safe Environment NDIS Practice Standards. It applies to all services and supports delivered by [] [] all employees, contractors and volunteers (Workers), who must take full responsibility for understanding and following it. It should be read alongside the related documents in the final section and the corresponding procedures in the Policy Register.

2. Policy aims

[] [] committed to ensuring that:

- work health and safety risks to workers, participants and [] [] identified and managed so far as is reasonably practicable;
- a documented system that effectively manages work health and safety risks is in place; and
- appropriate insurance — professional indemnity, public liability and accident insurance — is maintained.

3. Three principles

Work health and safety management rests on three principles: engaging all workers in risk management; having processes to identify, report, assess, manage and reduce work health and safety risks; and aligning the work health and safety program with [] [] risk management systems, policies and procedures.

4. Duties

So far as is reasonably practicable, [] [] as the health and safety of workers and others by providing and maintaining a safe environment, safe systems of work, adequate facilities, information, training, instruction and supervision, and by monitoring conditions and the health of workers. Workers must take reasonable care for their own health and safety and that of others, comply with reasonable instructions and policies, and report hazards, incidents and near-misses as soon as reasonably practicable.

5. Managing risks in every workplace

A risk assessment of the business premises is conducted and reviewed. Before providing support in a participant's home, a Work Health and Safety Checklist (home visit risk assessment) is completed with the participant or their representative; if a risk is rated medium it is used only after consultation with the Principal, and if rated high, only with the Principal's approval after the risk is re-assessed and other options are considered. If a worker has any concern about the risk, they do not provide services and refer the matter to the Principal. Known hazards are managed using the Managing and Reducing Known Risks Matrix and the four-step process — identify, assess, control, review.

6. Unacceptable conduct, discrimination and harassment

Bullying, discrimination, harassment and sexual harassment are not tolerated. A worker who considers they have been subject to unacceptable conduct can raise it internally with the Principal or a senior staff member, and externally a worker who has experienced bullying may apply to the Fair Work Commission for a stop-bullying order. Discrimination occurs when a person or group is treated unfavourably because of a protected attribute; harassment is unwelcome conduct that a reasonable person would find offensive, humiliating or intimidating; sexual harassment is an unwelcome sexual advance, request or conduct of a sexual nature.
