BACKGROUND

The NDIS Practice Standards require a documented system of delegated responsibility and authority to another suitable person in the absence of the usual position holder. This document records the resolutions of the governing body of [] (ABN []) and the Register of Delegations.

Resolutions of the governing body

- The governing body delegates the day-to-day responsibility for the operation of the business to the Principal / Director(s) — [] — in accordance with the Principal / Director Position Description.
- The Principal / Director(s) may delegate some or all of their duties to other qualified persons as they see fit (including those in the Position Description), and may create and delegate the roles reasonably required to operate the business and provide high-quality support, documenting those roles in the Register of Delegations below.
- In the absence of the Principal / Director(s) for any reason, the governing body delegates the day-to-day responsibility for the operation of the business to the organisation's other Key Management Personnel collectively; or, if no such person exists or they are unavailable, unwilling or unqualified, to a qualified person reasonably determined by the governing body, considering the Governance Policy and the Principal / Director Position Description.
- Unless otherwise agreed, a delegation to a temporary position holder operates on a temporary basis until the usual position holder is available again, and is limited to the responsibilities, scope and limitations in the relevant Position Description.
- This document may be signed in counterparts, which together constitute one document.
