PURPOSE AT A GLANCE

This policy explains how [] is governed and managed — the responsibilities of the governing body, how strategic and business planning is done, how the performance of management is monitored, how delegated authority operates in a position holder's absence, and how people with disability contribute to governance.

1. Purpose and scope

This policy supports [] to apply the Governance and Operational Management NDIS Practice Standards. It applies to all services and supports delivered by [] and to all employees, contractors and volunteers (Workers), who must take full responsibility for understanding and following it. It should be read alongside the related documents in the final section and the corresponding procedures in the Policy Register.

2. Policy aims

[] is committed to ensuring that:

- each participant's support is overseen by governance and operational management systems that are proportionate to the size and scale of the provider and the scope and complexity of support, and that people with disability are given opportunities to contribute to governance and to the development of organisational policy and processes.

3. The governing body

[] is committed to good governance and ethical leadership, with processes to ensure the overall direction, effectiveness, supervision and accountability of the organisation. The governing body takes ultimate responsibility for good governance and for ensuring [] meets all its compliance obligations — the laws, regulations and standards that apply, including the NDIS Practice Standards and conditions of registration.

The governing body is responsible for monitoring financial performance and ongoing viability; for managing risk — ensuring the identification, assessment, management or elimination of risks and their regular review, in accordance with the Risk Management, Work Health and Safety and Provision of Supports policies; and for the way [] works with the Principal and Key Management Personnel (as its delegate) to achieve its objectives.

4. Skills, planning and monitoring

The skills and knowledge required for the governing body to govern effectively are identified, and members undertake relevant training to address any gaps. Strategic and business planning considers legislative requirements, organisational risks, NDIS requirements and guidance, the needs of participants and workers, and the wider environment. The governing body monitors the performance of management, including responses to individual issues, to drive continuous improvement in management practices.

5. Delegated authority and conflicts of interest

[] is managed by suitably qualified or experienced people with clearly defined responsibility, authority and accountability for the provision of support. A documented system of delegated responsibility and authority to another suitable person in the absence of the usual position holder is maintained in the Delegation of Authority. Perceived and actual conflicts of interest are proactively managed and documented under the Conflict of Interest Policy.

6. Participant input

The governing body values feedback from people with disability about the governance of [] and about the development of organisational policy and processes relevant to the provision of support and the protection of participant rights, and provides opportunities for that input.
