PURPOSE AT A GLANCE

This policy explains how delivers specialised support coordination (Module 4) — time-limited, higher-intensity coordination for participants whose situations are complex or high-risk, delivered by an appropriately qualified practitioner who addresses barriers to implementing the participant's plan and works across mainstream and community services.

1. Purpose and scope

This policy supports to apply the Specialised Support Coordination NDIS Practice Standard. It applies to all services and supports delivered by and to all employees, contractors and volunteers (Workers), who must take full responsibility for understanding and following it. It should be read alongside the related documents in the final section and the corresponding procedures in the Policy Register.

2. Policy aims

is committed to ensuring that:

- specialised support coordination is delivered by an appropriately qualified and experienced practitioner to participants with complex needs or in high-risk situations;
- the practitioner addresses barriers to implementing the participant's plan, reduces the complexity of the participant's support environment, and builds the participant's capacity to coordinate and manage their own supports; and
- risks are identified, monitored and responded to, and the participant is supported to connect with mainstream and community services.

3. When specialised support coordination applies

Specialised support coordination is provided where a participant's situation is complex and requires specialist skills — for example where there are significant risks, multiple services involved, mental health or psychosocial disability, interaction with the justice or child protection systems, homelessness or housing instability, or a recent hospital discharge. It is generally time-limited and focused on reducing barriers and stabilising the support environment before stepping down to support coordination or self-management.

4. How it is delivered engages a Specialist Support Coordinator who meets the position description. The practitioner interprets and implements the participant's NDIS plan; identifies and addresses barriers to implementation; designs a service approach with the participant that is tailored to the risk and complexity of their situation; and works with mainstream services (health, mental health, justice, housing, education, child protection) as well as NDIS providers, with the participant's consent, to coordinate a coherent response.

Referrals in and out are recorded in the Referral Register, and progress against the plan is tracked in the Support Coordination Tracker. The practitioner receives supervision, uses enablement and strengths-based approaches, and builds the participant's capacity so that support can be stepped down over time.

5. Choice, conflict of interest and incidents

The participant chooses their providers, is given transparent factual advice and at least three provider options where practicable, and is informed of any conflict where [] also provides other supports (a Conflict of Interest Declaration is completed). Incidents are managed under the Incident Management and Reporting Policy, and the plan and support arrangements are reviewed at least quarterly with the participant.
