

PURPOSE AT A GLANCE

This policy explains how [] [] erned and managed — the responsibilities of the governing body, how strategic and business planning is done, how the performance of management is monitored, how delegated authority operates in a position holder's absence, and how people with disability contribute to governance.

This policy supports [] the Governance and Operational Management NDIS Practice Standards. It applies to all services and supports delivered by [] all employees, contractors and volunteers (Workers), who must take full responsibility for understanding and following it. It should be read alongside the related documents in the final section and the corresponding procedures in the Policy Register.

mitted to ensuring that:

- each participant's support is overseen by governance and operational management systems that are proportionate to the size and scale of the provider and the scope and complexity of support, and that people with disability are given opportunities to contribute to governance and to the development of organisational policy and processes.

committed to good governance and ethical leadership, with processes to ensure the overall direction, effectiveness, supervision and accountability of the organisation. The governing body takes ultimate responsibility for good governance and for ensuring all its compliance obligations — the laws, regulations and standards that apply, including the NDIS Practice Standards and conditions of registration.

The skills and knowledge required for the governing body to govern effectively are identified, and members undertake relevant training to address any gaps. Strategic and business planning considers legislative requirements, organisational risks, NDIS requirements and guidance, the needs of participants and workers, and the wider environment. The governing body monitors the performance of management, including responses to individual issues, to drive continuous improvement in management practices.
